Paintings Damaged In Gallery 45

Two paintings by artist Les Henry were damaged Tuesday afternoon as they were on display in Gallery 45.

Art instructor Sharon Ford was prompted to write the following comments on the defacing of the two works:

"Les Henry, You Are Sick. Who is really sick? An accomplished painter who makes a signed statement and invites you to accept it or reject it as it stands, or an anonymous critic who chooses to deface personal property, and identifies himself, through his method of communication, as a little less than the pervert who scribbles grafiti on bathroom walls. The statement should have read: Les Henry, I am sick."

Sharon Ford The words "Les Henry You Are Sick" were written across one painting in pencil, and a sharp object, "resembling an icepick," according to Miss Ford, was poked through another. One of the paintings belongs to John Mc-Quistion, an art student here at Miss Ford noted that the painting with the writing on it may be able to be repaired since the media was acrylic paint.

"Take Her, She's Mine" is now playing nightly until Saturday in Phillips Hall at 8 p.m.

Student cast members for the two act comedy, written by Henry and Phoebe Ephron, include: Merrie Stroschein, Mollie Michaelson; David Kalmeyer, Frank Michaelson; Ann Ashley, Anne Michaelson; Peggy O'Neal, Liz Michaelson; Jeff Graves, Emmett; Terry Hervey, Adele Mc-Dougall; Shelly Steorts, Sarah Walker; Casey Brown, Don Bow-

Set in present day Southern California and New England. Take Her, She's Mine" follows Mollie Michaelson through her life at Hawthorne College where she becomes entangled with life at Harvard, Yale, and Dart-mouth, and whatever else is the Frank and Anne Michaelson, Mollie's parents, are disturbed by her philosophy of college: all play and no work. While trying to be good parents they find that being responsible for a collegeaged daughter is not always the easiest thing in the world.

The parent's worry declines somewhat when Mollie decides to drop out of Hawthorne and become a stenographer in San Francisco. But, they get the shock treatment all over again as Mollie's younger sister starts Radcliffe College.

Traditional 'Men Of The Year' Banquet Is Tonight At SAC

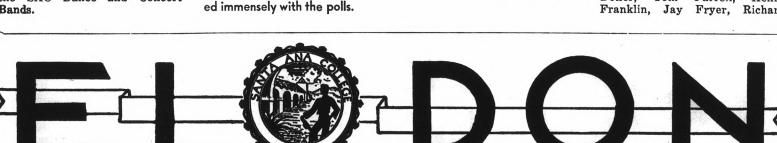

The Associated Men Students will sponsor the traditional "Men of the Year" banquet tonight honoring men students who have made a contribution through their service to Santa Ana Col-

Men were nominated by counselors, faculty members, administration, and others who get to know the students. Of the 150 names suggested, 36 remained after a committee consisting of the AMS cabinet, Dean Corser, and student body president Paul Dean, considered the names in accordance with GPA, class load, and service to Santa Ana College. Preference was given to second year men.

The top ten men of the year will be announced Friday night at a dinner honoring them at 7 p.m. in the student union. Guest speaker will be Dr. William B. Van Valin, world famous sur-

Ribal, White In Presidental Election Runoff

Hank White

By JOHN JEFFERIES

Larry Ribal and Hank White qualified this week for the runoff election for ASSAC President. Tom Goodwin was

In a show of strength, Ribal pulled 214 of 462 votes cast, and fell just 18 short of winning the presidency in the primary. White tallied 131, and the eliminated Goodwin brought in 117 votes.

Ribal's support came mainly from women students, as he had 119 female votes to 95 male ballots. The runoff election will take place Monday and Tuesday of next week.

In other voting, John M. Gruhler was elected ASSAC Vice-President with 378 votes; Douglas F. Cummings was elected Sophomore class President with 333 votes;

Steve Rundquist took the top spot in AMS, and Bobbie Yates beat Laura Gaskin for the AWS Presidency.

In a hard-fought, often below-thebelt election, the turnout remained sickeningly low, less than 10 per cent of the student body. Signs, speeches and all-out campaigning should have made the election very large, but again apathy took

There have been two incidents brought to the attention of the ASSAC Supreme Court, involving the campaign and election. The first involves some alleged destruction of campaign signs, and the second concerns a student casting multiple ballots. If facts substantiate these claims, reliable sources claim that those involved will be prosecuted.

(EDITORIAL ANALYSIS)

It's All Happening ... Finally

It's all happening at SAC? Could it be true? Is student involvement really taking place on this campus?

With the elections and the play happening this week, I can sense a certain feeling of "care" about good old Santa Ana College. There were actually people waiting in line to vote, and many of the usual weekly events seemed to matter all

Possibly it could be a number of improvements that this campus has undergone during the second semester. One good thing has been Paul Dean's administration; another has been the speakers on campus. But, although this may be biased, I tend to think the El Don has been decidedly responsible for ridding SAC of the lounge-lizards and the super brain-children who cared only for service points and how their records would look at Brainchild Tech.

On the El Don staff, we have the most informed people on campus. Yet, for the better part of the year, no one even cared to admit it. This isn't complaining though. We were working hard and covered the news as the campus made it.

Since I've been editor, the El Don has become the true voice of the students. But don't credit me credit your El Don staff, and credit yourselves. You have finally awakened to the fact that we can make this campus just about anything you want it to be. We can have the active clubs, and we can have the topical speakers. But what we didn't realize until now is that the world doesn't owe this campus a living. We have to make the scene, not just arrive.

In these last two months of the year, let's make a team effort to set the pace for next year. Some of us won't be here, but we can set up a real cool scene for next year's Dons. We must have a relevant campus

Black Students' Union (BSU) and the United Mexican American Students (UMAS), quiet, Conservative, lethargic little Santa Ana College is beginning to feel the first rumblings of the social awakening that is taking place throughout the nation.

The first question raised from the so-called "silent majority" is why are such organizations necessary. People who ask these questions, as SAC BSU President Larry Banks has stated, "can't be too far from the cave." Since 1619 black people have been exploited, beaten, chained, jailed, and mentally, physically, and culturally raped. For too many years the black leaders have turned the other cheek in the hope that sooner or later equality would evolve. The elders were afraid to 'step out of line'

AGS ... Active Is The Word

Alpha Gamma Sigma deserves a note of recognition. Possibly the most active club on campus this semester, AGS, has been responsible for some of its most worthwhile activities.

Beginning with an exciting college bowl, and proceeding to several faculty-student dialogues plus a "tremendous" scholarship banquet AGS has not yet taken a rest. This Thursday they costaged a discussion on the population explosion. Tomorrow they will travel to the Los Angeles

People Want Peace, Will Use Any Tactics For Goal

"People today want peace at doesn't solve the problem. But, any cost and if their government won't get it, then the people are going to go out and get peace themselves."

The above words sound as if they came from a bearded young man wearing dirty blue jeans while he burned his draft card at Berkeley. Yet the words came from the late President, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The United States government has not been able to get the peace that so many Americans desire, so many young people have taken matters into their own hands. It is the wrong approach, because their burning of draft they have taken a step, one which their government has failed to

People want peace bad. Bad enough that they will try to find it after their government has failed. And though their tactics are wrong, they have tried to make peace a reality, not just a oped in Orange County in 1966, has now gone nationwide. Tony Curtis, National "IQ" chairman recently presented the "IQ" program on the Today Show.

ACS Has IQ Buttons If You Kick The Habit

The double meaning of "IQ" indicating both "I Quit" and "Intelligence Quotient" is on purpose - it is intelligent to quit smoking, reported Andy Devine, former American Cancer Society Crusade Chairman.

badge signals a personal victory over a habit which is difficult Society's aim is to prevent lung cancer. Devine explained its only interest is in the health-destroying effects of the cigarette habit. Once a person gets cancer of the lung, there is only a five percent chance for survival. But research has shown that nearly all lung cancer can be prevented simply by dropping cigarettes."

"My wife quit smoking to help me. Husbands and wives can encourage one another to stop smoking by surprising the other with an "IQ" button and a special commendation.' The commendation was designed especially for the Orange County Branch by my good friend cartoonist Virgil I. Partch. When parents break such a difficult habit, they will not only be helping themselves," he suggested, "but, by their example, either prevent their youngsters from taking up the habit, or in encouraging their smoking teenagers to quit too."

He invited all countians who have stopped smoking to contact the local ACS office at 18356 E. 4th St., Tustin, or call 838-0510, for their free "I Quit" badge.

'When you really know in your heart that you've quit smoking, you've earned the right to send for and wear the "IQ" button."

After watching over 200 people lose their lives, blacks realized that this just wouldn't work. Since 1865 (the Emancipation) there have been more attrocities committed against blacks than were ever witnessed during slavery.

Tell It Like It Is

It is refreshing to see the Young Democrats come alive if only to provide a semblance of the two party system on campus. The YD's after their recent formation meeting are jumping in with both feet and plan to invite Jesse Unruh to speak next semester.

Not to be outdone, the Young Republicans are also getting their forces re-oriented. The YR's have (especially in the last year) been a major source of guest speakers at SAC and have done much to provide intellectual stimulation to those students who can break out of the high school hotrod syndrome.

For example, in the last year the YR's have brought these speakers to campus: Bill Teague, Vice President of Pepperdine College; State Senator John Schmitz; Dr. William Carroll and Paul Dean (pacification commander in Viet Nam). In addition it was the Young Republicans that made it possible for the college to procure the former new left leader Phillip Abbott Luce (who packed Phillips Hall) and John E. Johnson formerly a member of Governor Reagans staff and now a member of Nixon's administration. The YR's also handled all the publicity and organizational details for Luce and Johnson.

These speakers addressed ap proximately 1900 students and received over 320 inches of county newspaper coverage.

At the height of the San Francisco State College turmoil the YR's drafted a statement of support for Dr. S. I. Hayakawa which later was adopted by both the student senate and cabinet. In the form of a petition the resolution received six hundred student and faculty signatures before being sent on to Dr. Hayakawa.

Presently the YR's are looking for new members to begin building an even more active unit. In the near future the YR's are planning on bringing former Democrat Assemblyman William Danneymeyer who switched to the Republican party and tells why. The YR's have also engineered a commitment from Barry Goldwater Jr. to speak before the student body.

For you girls, YR vice president Bob Morgan says if you think politics is dull you haven't been to a YR party with all those rich handsome politicians! In any case Morgan points out that you should use your suffrage rights and get involved.

WORLD FAMOUS Trumpeter Rafael Mendez, who has had a very colorful past, will appear in concert with the college band, May 25 in Phillips Hall.

Music Department Is Presenting Rafael Mendez With College Band

By BOB KOWALCYK

The Santa Ana College Music Department will present in concert, Rafael Mendez, World Famous Trumpeter, as guest artist with the College concert band and stage band under the direction of Ben Glover, Sunday evening, May 25, at 8 p.m. in Phillips Hall.

The College Instrumental groups will be performing their third concert of the year and the second in two months. The concert band and the stage band will both perform a variety of selections with Mendez as the featured soloist.

Admission will be $1.00 and free with A.S.B. cards. All seats are reserved. There is a limited seating of 450. For more ticket information and reservations, phone 547-9561, ext. 203.

Mendez has been recognized as one of the finest trumpet artists of our time. His mastery of the instrument and technical ability is known among fellow musicians and music educators throughout the world.

His amazing technique and overall virtuosity has seen him often referred to as the "Heifitz of the Trumpet."

He was born in the Mexican village of Jiquilpan, which is about 300 miles west of Mexico City on the road to Guadalajara. When Rafael was ten years old, bandit chieftains roamed Mexico. The government soldiers and police were unable to defeat the big bandit gangs of 8,000 men that swarmed down on small towns and stole money, grain and

The village fathers of Jiquilpan decided to welcome the bandits instead of fighting them. Because of this treatment the bandits did not demand as much money and goods from the people. Rafael's father formed an orchestra with seven of his children, and they played for the "guests".

Soon the famous bandit Pancho Villa visited Jiquilpan. After he heard the Mendez family play, he wanted them as his own personal orchestra.

Pancho Villa adored Rafael, and he looked after him closely. But Rafael had bigger ideas. He wanted to play trumpet in the Mexico City Police Band, reputed to be the finest in the world. So he went to Pancho Villa and told him his idea.

This was not a very smart thing to do, but Rafael didn't know any better. It is like telling the manager of the Milwaukee

Braves you'd rather play for the Yankees, or telling your Marine Corps sergeant-major you'd prefer being in the Air Force.

Villa looked at young Rafael. "If you want to leave us, you are a traitor," he said. "And do you know what we do to traitors?

We call the firing squad."

Pancho Villa was only joking with young Rafael, but the boy did not know this. Bravely he watched Villa summon a firing squad. Bravely he let himself be marched across an open area to a wall. Bravely he heard the soldiers click the bolts of their rifles. Then Villa turned to Rafael. "Do you still want to join the Mexico City Police Band?," he asked.

The lad stammered, "Well, sir . . . Maybe not that much."

Nine Leaders

- Track Captains -

Hold Everything!! All year long El Don Sports has been under the impression that there was only one Don track captain, namely Eddie Steward.

Last week in a brief conference with Coach Howard Brubaker, who just completed his first Eastern Conference Championship, El Don Sports was informed of a few more

Last year in conference, the Dons were very strong and were only nosed out by ex-three-time champion Fullerton Junior College. Howard Brubaker was in his third year at Santa Ana, and at the completion of the year, he learned only nine freshmen would be returning as sophomores.

NEW YEAR

At the beginning of this year, Coach Brubaker didn't feel too strong about his teams performance for this year. This prediction was partly due to the heavy rains and a lot of good hard workouts.

Long Beach State was supposed to stomp the Don spikers, but the morale that has lasted throughout the conference year, upended Long Beach State.

San Bernardino was Brubakers next test, and the nine returning sophomores sparkled and the Indians went home with a loss. San Bernardino has now left the Eastern Conference partly because the Indians were never able to dethrone the Don spikers.

Now, that outlook for the reason has made a surprise move, Brubaker has his hands full. There was not a single captain, but he had elected nine co-captains. All co-captains were his returning spikers.

These nine spikers will leave Santa Ana at the conclusion of this year and they will be taking with them the Eastern Conference as well as a championship. Brubaker wrapped up this year and the conference with a title as best. The Eastern Conference diminishes at the conclusion of the year. Brubaker and company are the last names in the Eastern Conference record book.

THE WINNING NINE

The nine co-captains are Darryl Baker, Roger Davis, Dave Cameron, Jerry French, Ed Elliott, Lynn Meyer, Rick Muth, Ed Steward, and Keith Strodl. Of the nine captains all are rated as one of the best in the Eastern track ratings.

Baker is third in the high jump at 6-2. Davis holds first in the 880, running at 1:53.7. Dave Cameron and Jerry French hold one-two in the javelin, respectively. Dave has a short lead over French. Dave's distance is 200'0" while Jerry has a 198'1" toss.

Ed Elliott leaped to a new height this week. Ed pole vaulted 15-6 which brought him into second in the Eastern Conference ratings. Lynn Meyer leads in the 220, being clocked at 21.6. Ed Steward follows Lynn in the 220 with a time of 21.7. Ed also has second in the fastest race on earth, the 100 yard dash: his time is 9.8.

The distance part of the team is mostly contained in Keith Strodl and Rick Muth. Both are rated in the mile and 2-mile. Strodl has galloped to a 4:12.0 clocking in the mile while Rick's first in the 2-mile. His time leads the Eastern Conference by some 15 seconds. Ricks spectacular performance of 9:00.8 was accomplished against one of the strongest teams in Southern California, namely UCLA.

Without the nine spikers, Howard Brubaker may not have been even in contention. Besides nine captains is better than one captain.

FRESNO RELAYS

Last week, the Don spikers had their hands full of some of the greatest athletes in the country. The Dons did not compete with the super star athletes but their category was tough

Of the spikers participating in the Fresno Relays, they all saw John Carlos of San Jose State run a 9 flat hundred with the wind and a 9.1 clocking with little or no wind. His timing tied the world's best.

Dave Cameron shined in the javelin. Santa Ana did a fine job of competing with some of the greatest teams and athletes in the country. The Dons did not lose to their Eastern Conference opponents who also participated. The spikers only had its lumps with the rest of the teams that were entered.

The Dons move on to the Southern California Prelims and Finals, held at Los Angeles, May 14 and 17.

RICHARD (DICK) GORRIE

Entering his sixth season as football head coach at Santa Ana College, Dick Gorrie predicts the Dons will surprise the conference with their talented young ball players coming up from high schools. Last year the Dons rolled up an excellent 7-2 record dropping only to Fullerton and San Gorrie knows the angles and tricks of football having played ball at the University of California at Santa Barbara where he was first string quarterback.

Behind the great coaching of Gorrie are his invaluable assistants: Doug Gorrie, his brother, Walton Cubley, and Russ Chesley. Doug heads the defensive running backs and linebackers. Cubley is in charge of the interior linemen on both offense and defense; and Chesley is in charge of offensive running backs.
